Frequently Asked Question (FAQ) and their answers

Which publications are required to be registered with RNI ?

As per Rule 5 of PRB Act, 1867, no newspaper shall be published in India except in conformity with the rules laid down in the Act. A newspaper means "any printed periodical work containing public news or comments on public news". Hence, any publication coming under this category of newspaper is required to be registered with RNI.

How to start a newspaper?

The first step to start a newspaper is to get the title (name of the proposed newspaper) verified from RNI. For this the publisher has to make an application for title verification (format available on RNI's website) indicating the name, language, periodicity, owner's name and place of publication of the newspaper proposed, and submit it to the District Magistrate concerned. The District Magistrate after ensuring the credentials of the applicant, will forward the application to the RNI, who in turn checks the availability of the title. RNI informs the DM and publisher, the availability/non-availability of the title by issuing a letter of title verification/title rejection. Decision on a title application is taken within 30 days of receipt of title application in RNI. After this, the publisher has to file a declaration with the District Magistrate in the prescribed format available (www.rni.nic.in) and can start publication. The first issue of the newspaper should be printed within 42 days from the date of authentication of the declaration if it is a daily or weekly and in case of other periodicals, within 90 days. The application for registration (format available at www.rni.nic.in) can be submitted to the RNI along with an attested copy of the declaration, copy of title verification, first issue of the newspaper and a „No Foreign Tie Up“ affidavit duly attested by a Notary. The newspaper should contain volume number, issue number, title prominently displayed on the cover page and all pages. The title should be printed strictly as approved by the RNI; date line and page number on all pages; and an imprint line containing the name of printer, publisher, owner and editor, address of the place of publication and name and address of the printing press. First issue brought out after filing the declaration for registration after title verification would be Volume. I and Issue I. The Volume would change on completion of every year. If the printer and publisher are different persons, separate declarations with the DM are required. If the owner is different from publisher, a certificate in the letter head of the newspaper is required to be given by the owner, authorizing the person concerned as publisher. A registration request complete in all respects is decided within 30 days of the receipt of application in RNI and registration certificate issued to the publisher.

What are the formalities required after registration?

A copy of the newspaper should be delivered to the RNI whenever it is printed. The issue after the last day of February should contain the Form No. IV duly filled in (Statement regarding ownership and other particulars of the newspaper. Specimen available at RNI website). It is also mandatory to submit an annual statement (on financial year basis viz. 1st April to 31st March) in form II (format available at www.rni.nic.in). The Annual Statement should be submitted to RNI from 1st April to 31st May every year. In case of daily newspapers, an additional form AR-4 (Annexure-X) may also be submitted.

When to file fresh declaration?

Whenever there is a change of publisher, printer, owner, periodicity and printing press, the publisher/printer has to make a fresh declaration with the DM concerned and send the same to RNI for incorporating the change(s) and issuing a Revised Certificate of Registration. However, in case there is change of Editor or price of the newspaper, no declaration is required to be filed. Simple intimation to RNI would suffice.
